Metro & Non Metro Area Avg Population Trend

Statistical Analysis

	t-test	ANOVA
p-value	0.3629	0.109

No statistically significant differences were found.

Findings

- Sejong-si showed the highest average incoming migration due to supply in housings and public service relocation.
- The potential extension of GTX-C line and job opportunities pulled populations to Chungcheong province.
- Gwangju-si lacks new industries, but still has high proportion of manufacturing industry, which leads to net outflow from youths.

Limitations

Needs longer observation as it is relatively new funding.
Level of Mortgage loan restriction is externalities for house seekers.
